Fewer Nonfarm Job Losses in January; Unemployment Rate drops to 7.5%

The seasonally adjusted unemployment rate in Arizona dropped one-tenth of a percentage point from 7.6% in December to 7.5% in January. The U.S. seasonally adjusted unemployment rate also decreased one-tenth of a percentage point from 6.7% in December to 6.6% in January. A year ago, the Arizona seasonally adjusted rate was 8.0% and the U.S. rate was 7.9% (see Figure 1).

Arizona shed 42,200 jobs (-1.6%) over the month in January (see Figure 2). Job losses in January are typical in Arizona as firms reduce staff levels following the holiday months. The ten-year average ('04-'13) employment loss in January is 57,900 jobs. The Private sector accounted for most of the losses with 33,200 jobs; Government lost the remaining 9,000 jobs.

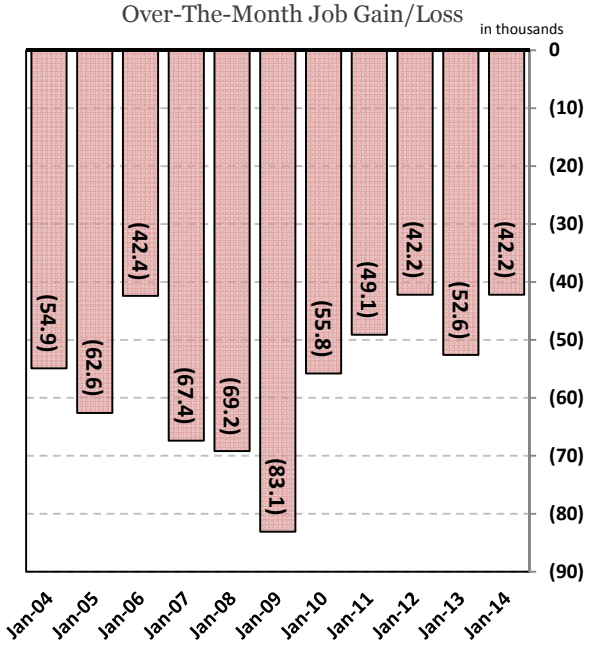
Over-The-Month Job Gain/Loss



Over the Month by Industry Sector

Ten of the eleven major sectors lost jobs and one was flat over the month (see Figure 3). The largest share of losses were reported in Trade, Transportation and Utilities which accounted for a third of the losses (33.4%).

Trade, Transportation & Utilities (TTU) shed 14,100 jobs (-2.8%), the smallest January loss since 2005. The post-recessionary average ('09-'13) is a loss of 17,100 jobs. The majority of losses were in Retail Trade (-11,200 jobs) which typically occur in January. Within Retail Trade, General Merchandise (-5,700 jobs), Clothing and Accessories (-2,700 jobs), Food and Beverage (-500 jobs), Building Material, Garden Supply (-500 jobs), Furniture and Home Furnishings (-400 jobs) all shed jobs while Motor Vehicles remained flat. Transportation, Warehousing, and Utilities shed 2,400 jobs all from Transportation and Warehousing (-2,400 jobs). The Utilities sector was flat over the month.

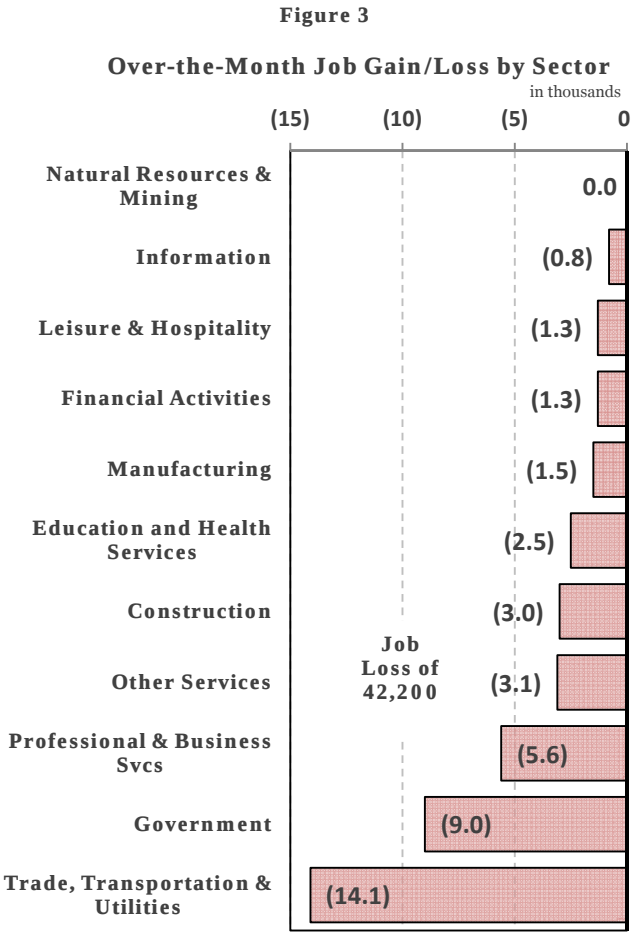
Government shed 9,000 jobs (-2.1%), slightly higher than the post-recessionary average ('10-'13) loss of 8,200 jobs. Most of these were seasonal losses in Local (-6,700 jobs) and State Education (-1,400 jobs). Federal Government shed 600 jobs.

Professional and Business Services lost 5,600 jobs (-1.5%). This is less than the post-recessionary average ('10-'13) loss of 8,900 jobs and the smallest January loss since 1996. Administrative and Support and Waste lost 3,900 jobs from Employment Services (-4,800 jobs), Business Support Services (-1,100 jobs), and Services to Buildings and Dwellings (-300 jobs). Professional, Scientific and Technical Services lost 1,600 jobs and Management of Companies and Enterprises lost 100 jobs.



Other Services shed 3,100 jobs (-3.5%). This is more than double the post-recessionary average ('10-'13) loss of 1,300 jobs and the second largest over the month loss ever recorded ('90-'14).

Construction shed 3,000 jobs (-2.4%), less than the post-recessionary average ('10-'13) loss of 3,700 jobs. Specialty Trades (-1,700 jobs), Buildings (-1,200 jobs) and Heavy Construction (-100 jobs) all lost jobs.

Education and Health Services (EHS) lost 2,500 jobs (-0.7%). This was fewer losses than the post-recessionary average ('10-'13) loss of 4,600 jobs, and the lowest January loss since 2006. Educational Services lost 1,200 jobs. Health care shed 900 jobs, less than a third of the post-recessionary average ('10-'13) loss of 2,900 jobs. This stems from a smaller-than-average loss in Ambulatory Health Care Services (-300 jobs) compared to its post-recessionary average ('10-'13) loss of 2,000 jobs. Social Assistance lost 400 jobs.

Manufacturing lost 1,500 jobs (-1.0%) primarily from Durable Goods (-1,300 jobs) and a small loss from Nondurable Goods (-200 jobs).

Arizona's seasonally adjusted unemployment rate decreased one-tenth of a percentage point from 7.6% in December to 7.5% in January. The U.S. seasonally adjusted unemployment rate also decreased one-tenth of a percentage point from 6.7% in December to 6.6% in January. Arizona shed 42,200 Nonfarm jobs (-1.6%) over the month in January. Job losses in January are typical in Arizona as firms reduce staff levels following the holiday months. The ten-year average ('04-'13) employment loss in January is 57,900 jobs. The Private sector accounted for most of the losses with 33,200 jobs; Government lost the remaining 9,000 jobs. Ten of the eleven major sectors lost jobs and one was flat over the month.

Over the month, Trade, Transportation and Utilities had the largest job loss (14,100 jobs), the smallest January loss since 2005. Over the year, Arizona gained a total of 55,400 Nonfarm jobs (2.2%) in January. The Private Sector reported all of those gains with 57,600 jobs, while Government lost 2,200 jobs. Eight of the eleven major sectors gained jobs over the year with three reporting losses. The largest over-the-year gain occurred in Trade, Transportation and Utilities (14,400 jobs), while the largest over-the-year percentage gain (6.9%) was reported in Financial Activities (12,300 jobs). Other major sectors that gained include Education and Health Services (13,800 jobs), Leisure and Hospitality (8,400 jobs), Construction (5,000 jobs), Professional and Business Services (4,400 jobs), and Information (700 jobs). Government (-2,200), Manufacturing (-1,100) and Other Services (-600 jobs) all lost jobs over the year.

Annual Benchmarking Revisions (CES - Establishment Survey Data)

Every year prior to the release of the January estimates, the Current Employment Statistics program (CES) revises previous estimates by incorporating data from the Quarterly Census of Employment and Wages (QCEW). QCEW is a Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS) program which provides a quarterly count of employment which covers 98% of U.S. jobs, based on Unemployment Insurance records. Information on the remaining 2% of employment is obtained from other sources, and the QCEW data is adjusted to obtain a 100% count of employment.

The replacement of CES estimates with adjusted data from the QCEW program is called benchmarking, and the new employment figures are often referred to as benchmarked data. Quarters for which QCEW data is not yet available are re-estimated using the latest available sample data. Last year, the revision process used QCEW employment counts from April 2011 through September 2012.

Arizona and sub-state area CES employment figures from April 2012 through September 2013 have been updated using the adjusted QCEW employment counts. Estimates for October 2013 through December 2013 have been replaced with new estimates. In addition, small historical corrections were incorporated into the data from January 2000 to March 2012.

Changes observed due to these revisions

The revisions indicate that Arizona's Nonfarm employment was stronger than originally reported for both 2012 and 2013. The revised 2012 annual average employment for Arizona was 2,463,500 jobs, an upward revision of 3,200 jobs or 0.1% (see Figure 5). The revised 2013 annual average employment for Arizona was 2,515,200 jobs, an upward revision of 6,000 jobs or 0.2% (see Figure 7). Revisions from 2006 to 2011 were primarily in Professional and Business Services and Education and Health Services.

In 2012, annual average employment was revised upward for Professional and Business Services, Information, Other Services, Construction, Financial Activities, Education and Health Services, and Leisure and Hospitality. Natural Resources and Mining revisions were not strong enough to change the annual average employment. Manufacturing, Government, and Trade, Transportation and Utilities were weaker than reported and revised downward (see Figures 5 & 6).

In 2013, annual average employment was revised upward for Professional and Business Services, Information, Other Services, Financial Activities, and Natural Resources and Mining. Two sectors, Manufacturing and Construction, reported no change in annual average employment. Sectors revised downward include Education and Health Services, Leisure and Hospitality, Government, and Trade Transportation and Utilities (see Figures 7 & 8).

— Equal Opportunity Employer/Program —

Under Titles VI and VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 (Title VI & VII), and the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 (ADA), Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, and the Age Discrimination Act of 1975, the Department prohibits discrimination in admissions, programs, services, activities, or employment based on race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, and disability. The Department must make a reasonable accommodation to allow a person with a disability to take part in a program, service or activity. For example, this means if necessary, the Department must provide sign language interpreters for people who are deaf, a wheelchair accessible location, or enlarged print materials. It also means that the Department will take any other reasonable action that allows you to take part in and understand a program or activity, including making reasonable changes to an activity. If you believe that you will not be able to understand or take part in a program or activity because of your disability, please let us know of your disability needs in advance if at all possible. To request this document in alternative format or for further information about this policy, contact the Department of Economic Security, Division of Developmental Disabilities ADA Coordinator at 602 542-6825 ; TTY/TDD Services: 7-1-1.
